

ANNUAL REPORT

Artwork by Jude Allaw '24

Dear Friends,

I am so pleased to report on the philanthropic highlights of our brilliant school. Thanks to the unfailing generosity of our parents, trustees, donors, teachers, staff, and alumni, Evansville Day School is in the strongest financial position it has been for many years.

This letter celebrates those committed supporters who gave to Evansville Day School during the 2016-17 fiscal year. Many of you contributed to the Annual Fund, Day School's most critical campaign to raise funds for annual operations. The school received much-needed support for renovations in the Preschool and a generous group of parents and trustees collected more than $115,000 for the work.

Donations received this year supported special initiatives such as Merit Scholarships, the Future Problem Solvers team, the Middle and Upper School Hybrid Learning Consortium, and Experiential Education trips throughout the year. We are grateful for everyone's passion for forward-thinking education. We also earned a record-breaking $110,000 from the 2017 South Beach Gala, which helped fund faculty salaries, academic programs, and facility enhancements in every division. It was an incredible year for philanthropy at EDS.

I officially started my presidency on July 1, 2017, and I would like to thank immediate past-president Chris Traylor 1990 for his dedication and leadership guiding Evansville Day School over the last two years. I would also like to call special attention to our faculty and staff who have maintained 100% participation in philanthropic giving to the school. Your generosity in both your craft and kindness is truly humbling and an inspiration to all. As a parent reported in this year's Net Promoter Survey, "The teachers care about each child's success, no matter their circumstance. They are truly amazing.... In my opinion, the instructors and learning environment is not matched by any educational offering in this region!"

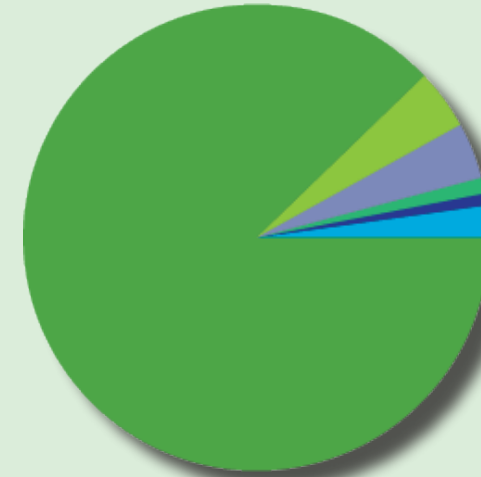

On behalf of my son, Max Lowery '18, and the entire Board of Trustees, thank you to all the donors who contributed to the philanthropic success of 2016-17.

Sincerely,

Dr. Lori Sieboldt
President, Board of Trustees
