

Evansville Day School
Upper School Social Studies Teacher

Type: Full-Time Faculty (10-month; reports to the Head of Upper School)

Posted: May 4, 2017

Application Deadline: position open until filled

Start Date: 2017-18 school year

Evansville Day School (EDS), in partnership with parents, offers a student-centered, college preparatory program supported by a challenging and comprehensive curriculum that encourages each student from Junior Pre-Kindergarten through Grade 12 to strive for excellence in mind, body, and human spirit. EDS was founded in 1946 and remains the only independent school in the Southwest Indiana (tri-state) region. The school enrolls approximately 300 students and boasts a 40 acre wooded campus, an impressively diverse student body, and 100% four-year college placement.

As with all positions at Day School, faculty hold much more than a job. Educators enjoy the opportunity to be part of an intellectual, interesting, and supportive learning community with a myriad of ways to engage students, families, and colleagues as everyone participates in the life of the school. All Day School faculty and staff are asked to focus actions and decisions on what is best for the school and the students.

This is an exciting time to join the Day School faculty as the school embraces its tradition of innovation in leading the Evansville community in delivering a real world, forward thinking education for the global leaders of tomorrow. This includes more experiential learning, the new Innovation Lab, and increased use of technology.

Job Description:

The Upper School Social Studies teacher develops students' ability to read, think, write, and speak critically about the study of history with an emphasis on analysis, themes, and connections to current events. This position also serves as Department Chair and teaches a variety of Social Studies levels, including Advanced Placement.

A successful teacher in this position has the flexibility to teach unique and diverse groups of students using a variety of facilitation and assessment methods and resources. As a member of a small Upper School faculty, a successful candidate must also be able to work closely with and communicate collaboratively with fellow teachers to ensure a positive Upper School environment.

Responsibilities:

- Teach required Social Studies courses for grades 9 through 12
- Collaborate with English and History teachers to form a Humanities department
- Forge and maintain partnerships related to class material, including Univ. of Evansville's Changemaker Challenge, Junior Achievement, National Geographic, and Law Day

- Participate in the life of the Upper School through coaching and/or advising a club/activities, serving on committees, and attending school events
- Serve as advisor to Upper School students and student organizations
- Implement innovative methods, including project-based learning, to engage students and deepen their interest in and understanding of history and social studies
- Pursue ongoing professional development
- Participate in (or lead) faculty, divisional, and departmental meetings
- Other duties as assigned by the Head of School

Qualifications:

- Four-year degree in History or related field required (Master's strongly preferred)
- Experience teaching History and/or Social Studies, preferably at the high school level
- Innovative and flexible, and embraces Day School's Portrait of a Graduate
- Excellent work ethic, organizational, and interpersonal skills
- Appreciation for the unique character and special demands of working at an independent school
- Ability to work independently and collaborate as part of a team
- Ability to meet deadlines, balance competing priorities, and maintain a sense of humor
- Passion for education and the EDS mission

Background:

- All employees and volunteers must agree to a comprehensive background check

Application:

- To apply send a cover letter, resume, and three references to Shannon Dierlam (Administrative Assistant to the Head of School) at sdierlam@evansvilledayschool.org. Please include "Upper School Social Studies Teacher" in the subject line.
